MACKINTOSH OF MACKINTOSH.

FAMOUS CHIEFTAIN'S BIRTHDAY.

PRINCE CHARLIE'S "BLUE BONNET"—AND THE INVENTOR OF WATERPROOFS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

A man, who bears what is perhaps one of the most romantic-sounding names in the world, celebrates the seventy-ninth anniversary of his birthday to-day. He is The Mackintosh of Mackintosh, chief of the Clan Charran, a confederation of sixteen clans, including Mackintosh and MacPherson. It is one of the most ancient chieftainships, and is said to descend from Sheagh of Shaw, a son of Duncan Macduff, third Earl of Fife, who acquired the designation Mac-in-tosh-ich, or The Thane's Son.

Although his title is The Mackintosh, of Mackintosh, one addresses him simply as "Mackintosh," and it is said that the only thing that makes him cross is to be addressed as "Mr. Mackintosh." His wife, however, is always addressed as "Mrs. Mackintosh," although some of the gillies and servants call her "Your Ladyship."

The Mackintosh—his other names are Alfred Donald—will spend to-day at Moy Hall, his ancient palace-like house, in the centre of about a quarter of a million acres of estate, including some of the finest grouse-shooting moors in the world. He has entertained Kings and Princes during "the season," and King George was at one time a regular visitor, even as far back as 1900, when he was Prince of Wales. The present Prince of Wales and the Duke of York have both been guests of The Mackintosh for the shooting.

Prince Charlie's Blue Bonnet.
Memories and legends cluster thickly around Moy Hall. It has been in possession of the Mackintosh clan for nearly 600 years, and has seen many bloody clan feuds. At one time it housed Bonnie Prince Charlie, the Pretender to the Scottish throne, and the present Mackintosh still has in his possession Prince Charlie's blue bonnet, and the table from which he dined on the eve of the battle of Culloden.

Gone now are the days when the chieftain of the clan was all powerful, with even the right to execute, but The Mackintosh still preserves many of the old customs. He still wears the kilt and the Mackintosh tartan of red and dark blue, and his own piper plays around the house in the morning and evening, and in the dining-room after dinner.

The Mackintosh, who is Lord Lieutenant and Governor of the county of Inverness-shire, is the 25th chief of the Clan Mackintosh. He was born June 24, 1851, and succeeded his brother to the title in 1878.

There was some doubt at the time as to whether he would succeed his brother, who, six months before his death, had married, and whose widow was expecting a child. The title was held in abeyance for over five months before a daughter was born.

He joined the army in 1870 and served for seven years with the 71st Highland Light Infantry, and then for 25 years with the County (Inverness-shire) Militia, which is now the third battalion of the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, of which he is Honorary Colonel.

In 1880 he married Ella Richards, only child and heiress of the late Edward Priest Richards of Plas Newydd, Glamorganshire. The Mackintoshes celebrated their golden wedding on April 14 last.

Clan's Most Famous Member.

There have been many famous members of the clan, but perhaps the best known is Charles Mackintosh, who when nearly 60 years of age, in 1823, patented a waterproof fabric which has ever after borne his name. In fact, this type of material has become a standard word in most dictionaries.

There are many stories of the clan, and the part it took in the wars between the English and the Scots, and many are those who died for the hopeless cause of Prince Charlie. It is even said that a Royal decree was issued permitting anyone to kill any member of the clan, and burn and pillage his property.

An Ancient Curse.

There is also a legend that the chieftainship does not often pass from father to son. It is the old story of a curse.

In the days before the Highlands became British, a Mackintosh of Moy slaughtered a chief of the Grant clan, and his son-in-law, the distraught daughter and wife called to Heaven that:—

"Never the son of a Chief of Moy
"Might live to protect his
"father's age,
"Or close in peace his dying eye
"Or gather his gloomy heritage."
Whether or not the curse is to be believed, it is a fact that the present Mackintosh succeeded his brother. In turn, his only son, Captain Angus Macdonald, who married the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, died in Washington, D.C., in 1918, from pneumonia brought on by war wounds. In the same year his wife gave birth to a daughter, Anne.

THE MURDER OF DR. STUBBS.

COMMUNIST OUTRAGE IN OPEN STREET.

ATTACKED WHILE CYCLING
HOME.

On the evening of May 30 on the Union University Campus a murderous attack was made on Dr. Clifford Stubbs, dean of the Science Faculty, and last year Vice-President of the University, writes the Chengtu correspondent of the N.C. Daily News.

He was riding his bicycle from the house of Dr. Anderson to his own home and when passing the front entrance of Hart College men jumped out from the shelter of the "Tieh li pah" hedge. One evidently told him from his bicycle with a "pien tan" (carry-pole) found near the scene afterward, and another attacked him with a knife, while on the ground and partly unconscious, and inflicted five body wounds on the left side, then decamped with his bicycle.

There were no witnesses of the incident, but within ten minutes homecoming students found the unconscious form of the doctor on the roadside and immediately gave the alarm. Dr. Crawford, Dr. Kilborn, Dr. Fu and Dr. Anderson all of the University were soon on the scene. A hasty examination revealed five nasty knife wounds, four flesh wounds, one quite serious, the knife having pierced the pleura of the lung. He was gently carried home and carefully tended throughout the night and removed to the Canadian Hospital, in the city, next morning. All possible means were taken to prevent a septic condition, but he died the following day.

To "Get" a Foreigner.

Two theories are held regarding the vicious attack in the dark. One is the theory of robbery as the bicycle was taken. This is discounted by the fact that his gold watch, chain and money were not taken. The other theory that receives the most attention from large sections of Chinese and foreigners is that it was the result of the anniversary of the Shanghai incident and it was meant to "get" a foreigner. Colour is lent to this theory by the fact that an open-air meeting of the Communists was held near the University clock tower the same day, and shortly after starting they dispersed having heard that a report had gone in from a foreigner about their clandestine meeting. About ten minutes before the tragedy a student coming along that road had seen three men near the hedge and one carried a carrying-pole. He was not molested and had no suspicions, but after the ambushing of Dr. Stubbs he was able to tell of the position of the three men so that on the finding of the prostrate form of the doctor the mode of the attack could be pretty well reconstructed.

The Most-Trusted Friend.

Dr. Stubbs, of all foreigners in Chengtu, was one of the closest and most trusted friends of the Chinese students. They all knew him as a man more than ordinarily sympathetic with their life and aspirations. That he should be attacked, knowing who he was, seems out of the question. It is quite probable the attack took place because he was the first foreigner that came singly in the neighbourhood of the ambush in the dense darkness of that hour. He was evidently stunned as soon he fell from the bicycle. The authorities are in full sympathy with the University and doing all possible to find the culprits. It is hoped the bicycle will lead to detection.

DEATH OF SHANGHAI RESIDENT.

MR. R. W. ROBERTSON.

The N.C. Daily News reports the death in tragic circumstance last week of Mr. Randall W. Robertson, the well-known exchange broker. He was found dead in a massage establishment on the second floor of 46A, Peking Road, Shanghai.

It appears that he had intended to receive treatment in the establishment for a muscular complaint. When Mrs. Kovanaloff, its proprietor, opened the door to him he stumbled across the threshold and collapsed in an inner room.

Dr. A. C. Price, was immediately summoned, pronounced life extinct and gave it as his opinion that death was due to a paralytic stroke. Dr. A. D. Wall, on behalf of the police, subsequently examined the body.

Mr. Robertson, who was a native of Scotland, had been in the East for many years. He came out here for the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, and the outstanding ability he displayed in dealing with exchange problems led to his rapid rise in the affairs of the bank.

For a number of years he was assistant manager in Shanghai and subsequently was manager in Hankow. Returning to Shanghai from Hankow, he was acting manager here for some time. Thereafter, he left the services of the bank and decided to take up the work of exchange broking. For this he was eminently suited, but unfortunately illness curtailed his activities to a very great extent.

He was a member of the Shanghai Country, Race, and other clubs and had owned several race ponies at different times.

DEATH OF CAPT. J. H. GOODWIN.

PAST PRESIDENT OF MER-
CANTILE MARINE SERVICE
ASSOCIATION.

The death of Captain J. H. Goodwin, M.B.E., a past president of the Mercantile Marine Service Association, occurred at his residence in Liverpool on May 10.

The previous week, on the occasion of the annual general meeting of the M.M.S.A., Captain Goodwin was re-elected to serve on the executive Council for a further period of three years.

Captain Goodwin was associated with Messrs. Alfred Holt & Co. (Blue Funnel Line) for more than a quarter of a century and was for many years in command of Blue Funnel ships running to the Far East. His last command was the Telemachus, of which he was master for a long time. He retired on account of age about 1915.

In recognition of his conscientious and energetic work as the representative of the M.M.S.A. upon the Navigating Officers' Panel of the National Maritime Board he was appointed a Member of the Order of the British Empire in 1920, and his public work also extended to the Central Committee of the Mercantile Marine Masters' and Officers' relief fund.

CHICAGO REPORTER'S MURDER.

RESIGNATION OF POLICE OFFICIALS.

Chicago, June 18.—Police Commissioner William Russell and John Stege, chief of detectives, resigned under fire today with civic organizations and churches of Chicago assailing them because of their failure to apprehend the slayer of the Chicago Tribune's "crime reporter" Alfred Lengle, who died some days ago at the hands of gangsters.

Police arrested nearly 2,000 major and minor gang members but could not attach the crime to no one. Both the commissioner and the chief of detectives blamed the present crime situation in Chicago to the existence of the prohibition law which, they said, made it immensely profitable for gangs to organize for illicit distribution of beer and hard liquors.

The one victory for law and order, and that a rather "left-handed" type of victory, lay in the recent conviction of Alfred Capone, brother of the notorious gang leader "Scarface" Al Capone, on a charge of income-tax fraud, and his sentence to-day to three years' imprisonment in the Leavenworth federal penitentiary, together with a fine of $10,000.

FOREIGNERS' CLAIMS IN CHINA.

HUPEH'S SUGGESTION TO NANKING.

Nanking, June 17.—In a communication to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Hupeh Provincial Government requests that various foreign Diplomatic authorities be notified to the effect that henceforth foreign nationals resident in China who have sustained losses or damages as a result of robbery or brigandage must not present claims for compensation directly to the local government concerned.

It is pointed out that foreign merchants in Hupeh have often presented claims for reparations direct to the Provincial Government. But according to international usage, private aliens who have suffered damages or losses in a foreign country must first resort to the local judicial authorities for redress. When the local authorities fail to render assistance, claims may be presented by the Government of the injured alien to the Government of the state in which the alleged wrong was committed through diplomatic channels. Private aliens are not entitled to claim reparations direct from the local government authorities.

CONTRACT FOR CHINA AIRWAYS.

REVISION REPORTED FROM NANKING.

Nanking, June 17.—It is understood that as a result of recent negotiations between representatives of the Ministry of Communications and of the China Airways Incorporated (American) relative to the revision of the contract between the latter and the China National Aviation Corporation for the operation of the Shanghai-Hankow air mail and passenger service, a revised contract has been agreed upon.

While details of the new agreement are not yet available, it is understood that the Corporation will be reorganized in accordance with Chinese law. Fifty-five per cent of the shares of the new Corporation will be subscribed by the Chinese Government and the remainder by the China Airways.

ADVICE FOR INVESTORS.

READERS are reminded that inquiries relating to the share market are answered on page 19 every Tuesday by "Kufan." Letters should be sent to this office, and must be accompanied by writer's name and address, not for publication. Letters should be addressed to "Kufan," care of the Editor.

HUMOUR: ANCIENT AND MODERN.

Niece: "Oh—Isn't the water cold?"

Auntie: "Well, you will wear those flimsy bathing suits."

"What university is your son attending?"

"I've forgotten now, but it's the one just outside the Yale Bowl."

"There will be services this evening at the usual time," announced the preacher. "Our subject will be 'Casting Pearls Before Swine,' and I shall be glad to see as many of you present as possible."

Mother (at 7 o'clock in the evening): "Come, Ethel, it is bedtime. All the little birds have gone to sleep in their little nests."

Ethel (at 3 o'clock next morning): "Come, Mamma, it is time to get up. All the little birds are up, and the mamma birds, too."

A well-known nobleman was strolling one day when he met a rustic holding in his right hand a rope tied to a very frisky calf, and in his left a staff. The countryman said "Good morning," and was passing on when the nobleman said:

"My good man, don't you know me?"

"Oh, yes," said the man, "you are Lord B—"

"Then why don't you touch your hat?" asked his lordship.

"Well, my lord, if you don't mind holding this calf a minute, I will," responded the rustic.

First Plunger: "Consolidated Buggies is a good stock. I've got faith in it."

Second: "You're fortunate. I've got money in it."

Gentleman (coming round the corner): "What are you putting that muzzle on your little brother for?"

Tommy: "Cos I'm sending 'im for some candy."

It really happened, according to Richy Craig Jr., in the club car of a west-bound train.

"So you're an actor, eh?" muttered the stout man. "Well, I'm a banker. And would you believe it, I haven't been near a theatre in ten years."

That's nothing at all," responded the other breezily. "I haven't been near a bank in twenty years."

A flutery lady, pretty, in a small coupe, got mixed up about things on the road and drove right past a red light. The traffic policeman motioned her into the curb and went over to her car.

"Didn't you hear me blow my whistle?" he asked.

"Didn't you see me hold up my hand to you?"

"No," she said, and shook her head meekly.

"He stared at her a long moment, not angrily really just reproachfully."

"Well," he said at last, "I guess I might just as well go home."

ALLEGED TORTURE OF AUTHORESS.

TERRIBLE BRUTALITIES CHARGED TO SERBIAN POLICE.

CONFESSION OF GUILT EXTORTED.

BELGRADE, June 18.

A terrible tale of alleged torture by the Serbian police was unfolded to-day in a formal complaint lodged with the Yugoslav Premier, M. Zivkovich, on her liberation after four weeks of arrest by the distinguished German literary woman, Frau Isolde Reiter.

Some time ago, she was suddenly arrested on the charge that she had participated in propaganda on behalf of the "oppressed German minority" in Yugoslavia. Unable to produce evidence to prove this allegation, the police under the personal supervision of the chief of police, Maksimovich, tried to extort from Frau Reiter a confession by inhuman tortures.

She alleges that she was gagged, had her feet bound together, her hands tied below the knees with an iron bar inserted between her arms and the knees, was thrown on the floor, "kicked and received a bastinado on her naked feet with a tubular rod. On May 15, she alleges, this torture lasted from nine o'clock in the evening until midnight, when Frau Reiter in terrible pain and covered with blood gave in so as to escape further ill-treatment and signed a document placed before her and incriminating herself and the well-known former German deputy Neuner.

Under the threat of renewed torture she was forced to sign another document stating that she had made the first statement of her own free will whereas she was liberated. She immediately lodged a protest with the authorities.

Though similar allegations have often been made by Croatian patriots, Communists, and other political prisoners in Yugoslavia, this is the first time that a foreign citizen has made the same complaint.

SHANGHAI LAND SALE.

PURCHASE BY JARDINES.

It was learned last week that the fine residential property, formerly owned by Mr. E. O. Gill in the French Concession in Shanghai has been acquired by Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co.

The property, which is situated at the corner of Avenue Joffre and Route Pichon, is just over 22 mow in extent, and the building forms in Shanghai.

This is the third time that this property has changed hands within recent months, and although the purchase price has not been announced, it is understood that it is over three lakhs.

SWEDISH MATCHES BOYCOTTED.

FOREIGN INVASION AGAIN RESENTED.

Another boycott has been proclaimed by Shanghai labourers. This time it has been called against Swedish matches in China. The labour union of the Yung Chang Match Co., Footing, believes that the foreigners are encroaching on China's match industry and that the Swedish match merchants have made a commercial invasion, monopolized the market, and are on the verge of throwing thousands of Chinese labourers out of work. It is also stated that China's match imports from Sweden have increased considerably during the past years and that Swedish merchants propose to open a number of new match factories in China.

The first statement is true, says the North China Daily News, but no authentic confirmation can be had of the latter. Inasmuch as there have been literally hundreds of similar boycotts recently, usual backed by prejudice it seems safe to say that it is unlikely that a number of new match factories will go up in the immediate future. There are a great many similar boycotts occurring almost weekly against one product or another.

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN HANKOW.

FRENCH SAILORS AND CHINESE POLICE.

Some details of this affair appeared last week in a Reuter message. A correspondent of the North China Daily News takes it a little further and is able to confirm the clear position of the French.

An unfortunate incident occurred at one of the cabarets in the ex-German concession on June 14. Three French sailors on arriving at the Palermo had a dispute with their richa pullers about the fare to be paid. A crowd collected, and were so menacing that other sailors emerged from the café to help those who were being attacked. A squad of armed men rushed from the Police headquarters and fired their revolvers at random. The crowd disappeared, the sailors got inside the cabaret, and a member of an American naval patrol and one of the Chinese policemen were found to be the casualties, the former being shot in the thigh and the latter in the knee.

News of the trouble reached the Commander of the Marine, who sent three officers to round up all French sailors. On arrival they found that the crowd was being held back by the police, and that the sailors of all nationalities were being held in the cabaret, and the officers as they entered the cabaret were searched by the police and a revolver carried by one of them was confiscated.

Matters then took an ugly turn, for on the arrival of the Superintendent of Police suggestions were at once made to him by Chinese that the sailors were responsible for the shooting, and a demand was made that the officer from whom the revolver had been taken should be taken to the police-station under arrest. However, the Superintendent agreed to telephone for the French Consul-General, M. Baudet, and after a long argument—during which it was proved that the officer had arrived after the affair was over and that his weapon had not been used—the matter was referred by the Consul-General to the Mayor of Hankow, Mr. Liu Wen Dao. After hearing the facts the Mayor and the Police Superintendent agreed to the officer being unconditionally released. All French sailors returned to their ships, and the guards left the cabaret.

FOREIGN FIRMS AND CHINESE COURTS.

QUESTION OF LEGAL STATUS.

The right of an unregistered foreign firm to sue in Chinese Courts in the capacity of plaintiffs was questioned by Mr. Chang Yung Hsi, a well-known legal practitioner in Shanghai, in connection with the case in which Ho Ken Shing is being sued by the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha. Mr. Chang contended that, in accordance with Chinese law, the Japanese company has not the capacity to sue as plaintiff.

Interviewed in connection with the matter by members of the Chinese Press, the lawyer mentioned that he based his contentions on the following grounds:—

The Mitsui Bussan Kaisha has no legal standing according to the Chinese law because it is a Japanese limited company which has not

THE TROUBLE IN ANNAM

CANTON REPLIES TO FRENCH MINISTER.

"TALKING THROUGH HIS HAT."

Thus Nam Fong in the Canton Gazette:—

If there is one thing that is not tolerated in Canton to-day, it is Bolshevism whether it be under the cloak of Socialism or Communism. And the reason is not far to seek. The memory of that human orgy enacted in December, 1927, wherein the blood of thousands of plain citizens and Red maniacs bespattered the pavements and smudged the walls of the city, is still too fresh on the minds of the populace to view with equanimity the presence of Bolshevists in their midst.

Thus, when M. Pietri, Minister of the Colonies, speaking in the French Chamber on June 13, declared "that the recent disturbances in Indo-China were undoubtedly due to propaganda by Communist organizations, which were richly financed, strictly disciplined, and working in connection with Bolshevist headquarters in Canton," he was adding insult to our already injured feelings.

Incidentally, M. Pietri is "talking through his hat," or may be he is badly informed as to what is going on right under our eyes. For his information, there are no Bolshevist headquarters in this city or anywhere in the suburbs. Communists there are, like small-pox, among us; but they have all their time taken up with dodging the police that they have little time to discipline and less capital to finance their colleagues in Annam. So that should dispose of M. Pietri's charge against Canton.

M. Pietri was perhaps thinking of the Annamite political refugees, but calling them Communists, because it is the fashion of Western nations to group under the name of Bolshevist or Communist all those natives in Asia whose nationalistic sentiments lead them to open conflict with their foreign rulers, in the hope of regaining the independence of their countries.

Viewed in that light, there are a few Annamites in the city, probably political refugees, who, to our knowledge, are at present pursuing their peaceful vocations. If these are the Bolshevists that M. Pietri has in mind, then he can rest assured that no trouble can emanate from them, inasmuch as the local authorities will be the first to suppress any political activities on their part, whose purpose is to undermine the government of a friendly and neighbouring state.

been registered with a Government organ in the place where it is engaged in business, as required by Article 30 of the Chinese Civil Code;

As the Japanese company has no legal standing, it does not have, in accordance with Chinese law, the right to sue as plaintiff and its only remedy lies in its registration with a Chinese Government organ;

In the past, foreigners in China had done their utmost to uphold their special privileges but they had always attempted in every possible way to shirk the responsibilities and the obligations imposed on them by law; failure to register themselves with a Government organ was but one of the many examples in this respect.

In conclusion, Mr. Chang expressed the hope that the Chinese people would uphold China's prestige by seeing that foreigners observed the laws of China.

POWER CONFERENCE SENSATION.

PROTEST AGAINST AMBASSADOR'S SPEECH.

Berlin, June 18.—The second World Power Conference which opened here a few days ago with 4,000 delegates representing 30 different nations was marred by a slightly ludicrous incident when the American delegation learned in advance of the contents of the speech which the United States Ambassador Mr. Sackett intended to make to-day before the conference.

The speech, it leaked out, was to contain a vigorous criticism of the American power companies because they are selling electricity at a price which is fifteen times the cost of its production.

Protest to Ambassador.

When the American delegates learned of the Ambassador's intention they immediately repaired to the Embassy where they declared that such a statement would constitute an unwarranted interference in private interests and they demanded that the Ambassador should delete the offending passages from his speech.

When Mr. Sackett curtly refused to accept their demand the delegates immediately mobilized the most powerful man in the American electric industry, the Chicago industrialist Mr. Samuel Insull, who is at present on a holiday in Europe and who at once rushed to Berlin in order to remonstrate with the Ambassador, who thereupon declared that under these circumstances he would not speak at all. Mr. Insull finally yielded and brought about a reconciliation between the delegation and the Ambassador who will deliver his address to-day in its original version.

Message From President Hoover.

Berlin, June 19.—The American Ambassador, Mr. Sackett, to-day read out to the Second World Power Conference a special message from President Herbert Hoover conveying to the 4,000 delegates his greetings and adding: "The mind of mankind is spurred by the constant progress in the realm of knowledge and its application to the ever lengthening list of aids to humanity. Civilized society depends ever more and more on the spirit of research and the application of scientific truth. Those who serve this cause serve the nations' best interests."

A banquet which will be attended by 3,700 people forms the culminating point of the congress to-night.

RACE FOR ARMAMENTS.

1,000,000,000 FRANCS MORE FOR FRENCH DEFENCE.

Paris, June 18.—L'Echo de Paris forecasts the early introduction into the Chamber of additional Estimates for national defence amounting to as much as 1,000,000,000 on which the debate will probably take place in camera before a special committee comprising representatives of all parties.

It is understood that a decision to that effect was taken at to-day's meeting of the Ministers of the Navy, the Air-Force and the Army, while the Under-Secretaries of the three departments named conferred with the chiefs of the various political parties who pledged themselves to the strictest secrecy.

The report has created an enormous sensation in political circles where it is interpreted as proving that there exists very little hope for an early relaxation in Franco-Italian relations and of an agreement being reached in the discussions started with Italy in connection with the recent London naval conference.

TESTS FOR ROUND WORLD FLIGHT.

RECORD BREAKING PRELIMINARY TRIP.

[UNITED PRESS.]

San Diego, June 17.—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee arrived here to-day by air from Jacksonville, Fla., after having flown in the record-breaking time of 13 hr. 55 min 30 sec.

After taking on fuel and oil they left on a return flight to Jacksonville at 5.15 o'clock this afternoon. This flight is intended as a test of their aeroplanes preliminary to an all-flying round-the-world trip.

Henry Mears and in which they do not intend to have recourse to steamship transportation, as in the case of their 1927 trip when they shipped their aeroplanes across the Pacific after flying the other portion of the trip.

THE NAVAL PACT.

SWINGING ATTACK BY CALIFORNIAN SENATOR.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, June 18.—A scorching radio broadcast speech wherein Col. Henry L. Stimson defended the London Naval Limitation Treaty was delivered to-day by Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

He characterized the Stimson views as consisting of "platitudinous generalities" and said that the treaty was un-American and should be rejected.

Seven Objections.

Senator Johnson cited seven objections to the treaty. He asserted that it would not reduce American taxation, that it did not provide for Anglo-American parity, that it increased Japan's Washington Conference ratio "to our disadvantage and to the peril of our sea-borne commerce," that it did not terminate competition, but abandoned the theory that the Navy was primarily for the protection of commerce. The American cruiser fleet, moreover, "must be built to British instead of to cruiser specifications, in the Senator's opinion."

The Unpeaceful Pacific.

In connection with Japanese increase, Senator Johnson warned that the Pacific ultimately would be threatened as it became a centre of world activity.

Without mentioning President Hoover, Senator Johnson said:—

"If we accept this treaty, it is not because of its merits but by the fact that certain people deem it necessary that we have the treaty. Thus it becomes a political treaty for use in domestic politics."

Senator Johnson alleged that Colonel Stimson's criticism of naval officers was unparliamentary because they could not reply.

BISHOP'S CHALLENGE TO REPRESENTATIVE.

DESIRE TO TEST ACCUSATIONS IN THE COURTS.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Washington, June 18.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., to-day challenged Representative George Tinkham of Massachusetts to make his accusations regarding Bishop Cannon's primary expenditures outside the privileged halls of Congress, so that a Court suit might be instituted.

He declared that Congressman Tinkham had attempted to please the Catholic voters of Boston when he had intimated that Bishop Cannon had applied to his own use some of the money given him to fight the Presidential aspirations of former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

PASSPORTS IN CHINA.

THE PROTECTION OF FOREIGNERS.

In identical communications to the Provincial Government throughout the country, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs states that foreign nationals may not be admitted into the interior of the country, that is in places not open to foreign trade or residence without proper passports being presented.

It is stated that the measure is not to be construed as anti-foreign but the authorities have deemed it necessary to exercise care partly as a protection to foreigners travelling in China, and partly to guard against sinister activities of foreign reactionary agents in the country.

THE KAO YING CASE.

ONE LAST APPEAL.

A final appeal has now been filed at the Supreme Court in Nanking by Kao Ying, former Chinese Consul at San Francisco, and his wife, who were both convicted by the Nanking District Court on charges of opium smuggling and whose subsequent appeal was recently rejected by the Kiangsu Provincial High Court.

As in all cases of final appeal to the Supreme Court, only questions of law are inquired into, and no public hearing of the case will be held. The decision of the Kiangsu Provincial High Court, if affirmed by the Supreme Court, will be final.

PROHIBITION TO BE AMENDED?

STRONG SUPPORT FOR MR. MORROW.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Newark, N.J., June 17.—A total of 114 New Jersey precincts give Mr. Dwight Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, 4,105 votes as compared with 769 for Mr. Fort and 718 for former Senator Frelinghuysen in the contest for the Republican Senatorial nomination, it was announced late today.

All indications point to an overwhelming victory for Mr. Morrow, according to his supporters.

LATER.

At midnight to-night Congressman Franklin W. Fort conceded the Republican Senatorial nomination for New Jersey to Mr. Dwight Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico.

With 630 precincts reported, Mr. Morrow had received 35,236 votes, Mr. Fort and received 9,821 and former Senator Frelinghuysen had received 5,697.

Both Mr. Fort and Mr. Frelinghuysen telegraphed congratulations to Mr. Morrow and assured him of their support.

To-day's election was watched with keenest interest throughout the United States, not only because of the fact that Mr. Morrow is an outstanding public figure who is already being groomed for the Presidency by his admirers, but because he ran on an outspoken platform which declared for repeal of the Eighteenth (Prohibition) Amendment to the Constitution and a change of prohibition emphasis so that the states would accept individual choice and responsibility in this respect.

The "Digest" Poll.

"Apparently the Literary Digest poll was correct," Mr. Fort told newspapermen to-night, referring to the fact that the Digest's nationwide straw vote indicated an overwhelmingly "wet" sentiment toward either repeal or modification of the law.

Mr. Morrow said that he preferred not to issue any comment, pending a fuller count of the vote.

Behind Mr. Morrow is a long record of financial and public achievement, with its most notable recent features his administration of the ambassadorship to Mexico and his work on the American delegation to the London Naval Limitation Conference.

Of additional interest to the general public is the fact that he is the father-in-law of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who, son of a father who was known as a radical leader in Congress, now seems due to figure as son-in-law of an anti-prohibition leader.

LATER.

A total of 1856 precincts give Mr. Morrow 164,201 votes, Mr. Fort 47,421, and former Senator Frelinghuysen 21,720.

St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—Mr. Thomas Schall to-day appeared to have received the Republican Senatorial nomination over Governor Theodore Christianson.

Support From White House.

Washington, June 18.—A statement issued by the White House to-day said:

"The White House will give every possible support to the Republican Senatorial nominee in New Jersey, and the President and the Administration have every confidence that Mr. Dwight Morrow will be the next United States Senator from New Jersey."

This statement was considered of special interest in view of the fact that for many weeks back, President Hoover has preserved a scrupulous hands-off policy with reference to State politics.

Mr. Hoover and Mr. Morrow have been close friends. In some quarters it was felt that to-day's White House utterance was designed to refute rumours that the persistent talk of possible Presidential candidacy on the party of Mr. Morrow had tended to thrust them apart.

"Wets" are jubilant at the overwhelming nature of Mr. Morrow's victory, on a "sopping wet" platform, over the "dry" candidate, Representative Franklin Fort, and the somewhat less "wet" candidate ex-Senator Frelinghuysen.

It is foreseen that Mr. Morrow's (Prohibition) Amendment and substitution of a "States' rights" amendment with reference to prohibition may be carried into a national issue within a short time.

WHAT A WASTE!

WHISKY AS HAIR RESTORER.

A PILFERING AMAH.

Convicted on a charge of the theft of four bottles of whisky and three bottles of lemon squash, Lau Hung, a widow employed by Mr. W. Brace, 108, Cameron Road, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment when she appeared before Mr. Whyte-Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

The defendant was represented by Mr. F. X. d'Almada, jr.

In consequence of a report made to the Police of the loss of a bottle of whisky, officers were sent to the residence of Mr. Brace, and in the amah's room the missing bottle was found. Detective-Sergeant Kellett explained that Mr. Brace bought whisky by the case and that two bottles had already been pilfered before the attention of the Police was drawn to the matter.

His Worship (to Mr. d'Almada): What does your client want with the whisky?

Mr. d'Almada: I understand she uses it as a hair restorer, so I am instructed to say! (Laughter.)

His Worship (laughingly): What a terrible waste!

Detective-Sergeant Kellett intimated that an amount of $375 was found in the possession of the defendant, who had claimed that that sum was the amah's club money. The officer also told his Worship that Mrs. Brace had complained of the loss of $30.

Mr. Brace said that the defendant had been employed by him since January. The amah had been a fairly good worker and had given no cause for complaint until lately. When a search was made in her room various articles, which she had no business to have, were found.

"Drys" discount the significance of the victory on the theory that New Jersey is known to be a "wet" state and that Mr. Morrow's personal prominence figured more than his platform.

Now a National Figure.

The capital is to-day talking of little but the New Jersey nomination of Mr. Dwight Morrow as Republican candidate for the Senate.

Press and other comment throughout the United States discloses that Mr. Morrow has suddenly emerged as a national figure of far greater importance than ever before, and already overshadowing most of his rivals.

He is generally deemed the chosen leader of the movement to repeal the Eighteenth (Prohibition) Amendment. This movement has hitherto lacked a man, prominent and politically sagacious, who might head the apparently increasing trend toward return to State control of liquor.

CHICAGO FAVOURS MODIFICATION.

[UNITED PRESS.]

Chicago, June 18.—The Chicago City Council to-day sent a memorial to Congress asking that the national body move toward modification of the Volstead Prohibition Enforcement Act, and call for a national referendum as to popular opinion on the Eighteenth Amendment.

This action was taken, according to the phrasing of the memorial, in an effort to return liquor control to the states, and to help stamp out crime in the United States.

Motion in the House.

Washington, June 18.—Representative M. Alfred Michaelson of Illinois, who was a supporter of the drastic Jones "Five and Ten" prohibition enforcement act, to-day introduced a resolution in the House, calling for amendment of the prohibition enforcement law to provide for government control of liquor.

He pointed out the result of the recent "Literary Digest" nationwide poll, which showed heavy majorities in favour of repeal or modification—as opposed to continuation of efforts along present lines.

Michaelson now stands virtually alone for a massacre. Representative Michaelson declared, saying that the increase in crime throughout the country indicated "an effort by force to weaken the foundations of our national institutions."

ACCUSED PLEADS GUILTY.

CHARGES OF ROBBERY AND WOUNDING.

A SEVEN-YEAR SENTENCE.

The remaining cases in the present month's Criminal Sessions calendar were heard yesterday before the Puisne Judge (Mr. Justice Wood) when the accused pleaded guilty in one case, and, in the other, the jury, without retiring, brought a verdict of guilty.

Chung Wing was charged on three counts, including robbery of a sum of nearly $10,000 and wounding an accountant belonging to the branch office of the China Navigation Company.

Accused pleaded guilty to all the charges and said he had no statement to make.

Wong Lai Wo, the wounded man, who had been in hospital, stated in evidence that he had the little finger of his left hand cut off. A bone in the finger of the other hand was split, and he also received cuts in the face.

Accused was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment with hard labour on the robbery charge, other sentences being concurrent with this term.

Two Men Found Guilty.

Wong Ping and Lau Yat Sing were on charges of assault with intent to rob and malicious wounding. The men were formerly fokis in a firewood shop, and it was alleged that they had arranged with persons outside to rob the master, Lai Pau, at his shop in Chung Sau Lane.

Mr. Somerset Fitzroy, outlining the case for the Crown, said that it was usual for the two men to sleep on the premises. On the night of April 24, however, they brought in an outsider, and it was alleged that they had arranged to rob the master.

When the master was attacked he raised an alarm, and the assailants bolted. Wong Ping was caught by a district watchman as he was running away from the house, and the other was arrested the next day.

Two knives, a chopper and an automatic pistol were found after the men ran away.

After evidence had been brought to close the Crown case, his Lordship directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty in respect of the charge of malicious wounding, as there was no evidence to support it.

The jury, without retiring, found the prisoners to be guilty on the first count.

His Lordship passed sentence of three years' imprisonment with hard labour.

ST. PAUL'S COLLEGE EXTENSION.

BAZAAR NEXT MONTH TO RAISE FUNDS.

A bazaar will be held at St. Paul's College on July 18 and 19, as part of the school celebrations in commemoration of eighty years educational work in St. Paul's College, and an effort is being made to raise funds for a further extension of the school.

The scheme is to take over the Bishop's quarters in the College, which are now fully eighty years old and not well suited for residential purposes, and rebuild them for the much needed extension of the school. The scheme includes the provision of a house for the Bishop as well as the re-building of his present quarters.

This involves the raising of a very considerable sum of money. Already a sum of nearly thirty thousand dollars has been collected for this purpose and it is hoped that the bazaar, which is being organised by the staff and students of the College with the kind help of the Monks of the Victoria Monastery and Missionary Association, will considerably augment this amount.

His Excellency the Governor has kindly promised to open the bazaar on July 18.

PIRATES ATTACK FISHING JUNK.

ONE KILLED: TWO WOUNDED.

POLICE COMBING THE SEA.

The local water police are combing the sea around She Muk Island for news of a pirate junk, a description of which was supplied to them yesterday by the master of a fishing junk.

According to the report made by the master, his junk sailed from Cheung Chau on Sunday morning for the fishing grounds. Most of his crew on arrival at She Muk Island boarded small sampans and proceeded to fish.

The pirate boat appeared at about 7 a.m. in the morning and had no difficulty in boarding the fishing junk, most of the crew being away. They, however, used revolvers and fired several shots at the people in the sampan, and it is as a result of this shooting that Chan Wai Tai (10) lost his life and two other fishermen were injured.

The pirates sailed away with the captured junk. The master of the fishing junk managed to find his way back to Cheung Chau, when he reported the incident to the police, who immediately put out to sea and managed to rescue a number of the fishing boat's fokis who were in the sampans at the time. The dead boy was removed to the Kowloon Mortuary and the wounded were removed to hospital. A search was made yesterday for the pirate boat, but up to a late hour no further news had been received.

PORTUGUESE LADY'S DEATH.

MISS INESIA DE GRACA.

The death took place at her residence, 1, Aimal Villas, Kowloon, on Sunday, of Miss Inesia Maria de Graca, after an illness of several months. She leaves two brothers, sisters, and other relatives to whom much sympathy will be extended in their sad bereavement.

There was a large attendance of members of the Portuguese community at the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Happy Valley, where the deceased lady was buried yesterday. Sisters of the French and Italian Convents were among the gathering, and the orphans of these institutions lined the path leading to the Chapel.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Father Granelli, assisted by Rev. Father Noval and other priests.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM SUCCESSES.CONFLICTING REPORTS FROM THE NORTH.*SWORD ATTACK BY KUOMINCHUN.

Fighting is reported to have been resumed on the Lunghai Railway line. On Sunday morning, the Kuominchun troops, armed with swords, counter-attacked on the Nanking troops near Yehchikang. The onslaught was so sudden that the latter had to retreat thirty li. Reinforcements are being sent to the Nanking troops.

A report received from General Liu Chih by the field headquarters at Hsuehchow, however, tells a different story. According to this report, the rebels on the Lunghai front have been forced to fall back since the resumption of the offensive by the Government forces. The latter have re-captured Chih-shien and are now pressing upon Chenlou. Many prisoners were taken and numerous rifles and large quantities of military supplies captured.

General Killed.

Sun Liang Cheng and Chi Hung Chang, two leading generals of the Kuominchun, were wounded during the fighting, and Chi succumbed to his wounds later. The report adds that Kaifeng, the capital of Honan, is expected to fall into the hands of the Nationalists at an early date. While fighting has been resumed on the Lunghai front, the situation on the Peking-Hankow Railway remains quiet.

Marshal Chiang Kai Shek journeyed by aeroplane to Sinyangchow on Saturday morning to inspect the defences. He flew back to Kwei-toh in the afternoon.

According to a communique, issued by the Hankow military authorities, a regiment of the Kuominchun, under General Liu Ju Ming had mutinied near Chumantien.

Yen Hsi Shan is said to have become greatly discouraged in his campaign against the Nationalists. His troops and allies are in need of ammunition and are in financial distress. He is expected to proceed to Shichiehshang again.

Situation at Tsinan.

In spite of the fact that Tsinan, the capital of Shantung, is still in the hands of the Nationalists, Yen Hsi Shan has appointed Shih Yu San governor of Shantung. The loyal troops under Han Fu Chu in Tsinan claim to have repulsed the attacks by the Shansi troops.

Reports from Changsha state that the Hunanese and Cantonese troops in Hunan are engaged in serious fighting with the Kwangsi rebels and the "Ironsides" at Yuhshien and Liling in Eastern Hunan.

General Ho Ying Ching, who is now at Changsha, has instructed his troops to exterminate the rebels in a fortnight. Four bombing aeroplanes have been dispatched from Hankow to the war zone for service.

It is reported that the rebels under Lu Hsing Pang in Fukien will join the Kwangsi rebels in the invasion of Kiangsi. The loyal troops under General Liu Ho Ting have decided to advance into Kiangsi to pursue them.

Over 3,000 of the Kwangsi troops under Wong Shiu Hung are striking southward presumably to recapture Kwangsi. The Canton division under Yu Hon Mow has been ordered to hurry to the southern border of Hunan from Kwangsi to cope with the situation.

CARGO BOAT SUNK AT WHAMPOA.SEVERAL PASSENGERS DROWNED.

According to a Canton report, several passengers on board a cargo junk were drowned at Whampoa when the vessel sunk owing to the strong current caused by a rainstorm on Thursday last.

CANTON WATER SUPPLY.PETITION FOR RELIEF FROM SHORTAGE.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, June 23.

For some reason or another the Canton Water Works, a municipal enterprise, has been unable to supply all of its customers with water.

The pressure of water is so low in Saikwan and other places that the tenants living on the first floors and above have not had a single drop of water from their pipes for the past few months. Only those living on the ground floors are fortunate enough to get some of this "precious liquid" twice a day, once in the afternoon and once at about midnight. Those living on the first floor and above are compelled to resort to the never-failing wells, or else have to hire water-carriers at the rate of 10 cents per two bucketful for the tenants on the first floor and 15 cents for those on the second floor, etc. These people, who are bitterly complaining of the inefficiency of the water-works, are addressing a petition to the Bureau of Public Utilities asking that something be done to relieve the water shortage.

WEDDING BELLS.CHINESE COUPLE MARRIED AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

TSAN—LIM.

A pretty ceremony took place at the St. Joseph's Church, Garden Road, on Sunday when the marriage of Miss Elsie Fidelia Tsan, daughter of Mr. K. Y. Tsan, of Bangkok, to Mr. Lim Chee Seang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lim Soon Jin, of Penang, was solemnised.

The bride was attractively attired in a costume of white lace with veil, and shoes to match. She carried a pretty bouquet of white lilies, and was given away by her uncle, Dr. K. C. Cheng.

The bridesmaids, Misses Nancy Tsan and Julia Yau, wore dresses of peach georgette, with shoes to match, while the duties of best man were performed by Dr. K. C. Yeo. The Rev. Fr. Joy, S.J., officiated at the ceremony.

After a reception at the Hong Kong Hotel roof garden which was attended by many friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lim left for Repulse Bay where their honeymoon is being spent.

CROWN LAND SALES.TWO KOWLOON LOTS SOLD.

At the Crown Land Office yesterday two lots of land at Kowloon were sold by public auction. The first lot, Kowloon Inland Lot No. 2342, situated at the junction of Bute Street and Fa Yuen Street, was sold to Mr. Chan Kau of 63, Bute Street at the upset price of $15,812. The land has an area of about 8,840 sq. feet, and its annual rental is $102.

The second lot, Kowloon Inland Lot No. 2343 with an area of about 3,100 sq. feet, was sold to Mrs. Ko Hun Lun of 136, Yu Chau Street for $8,700. Its upset price was $8,200. The land is situated at Tung Choi Street and its annual rental is $36.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE BRIGADE.

At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the day in question a heavy rainstorm came on suddenly, and the overloaded junk was sunk. There were over ten passengers on board, some of whom were rescued by boat people immediately after the incident, but several of them are believed to have been drowned. The vessel was subsequently salvaged.

EGGS AS HARD AS BULLETS.COLD ROOM TESTS IN HOTEL CASE.

The cross-examination of Mr. Rasey, the second witness called by Messrs. Anderson, Meyer & Co. in their claim against the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., for balance due in respect of refrigerating plants, was concluded at the morning sitting of the Supreme Court yesterday, when an adjournment was made until this morning to enable some calculations necessary in the re-examination to be prepared in advance.

Resuming his cross-examination of the witness, Mr. Eldon Potter put to Mr. Rasey the results of tests carried out in the cold rooms during the week-end, at the same time offering the witness facilities for carrying out such tests himself if he was not satisfied with the conclusions.

Mr. Potter said that at 6.30 p.m. on Friday certain produce was put into the poultry room for the purposes of the test. This consisted of six fresh chickens, six fresh fish and four bottles of milk. Two thermometers were hung in the centre of the room, the temperature reading at the time being 33 degrees. The room was then locked and sealed, the key being in the custody of Mr. Turner.

At 9 a.m. on Sunday, the reading of the thermometer outside the door of the room was 16 degrees. The door was then opened and the inside thermometer registered 17 and 18 degrees, respectively. The condition of the fish was iron hard, and when struck against the tiles it was just like a stone striking against stone. A section of the fish when cut out and inspected under a powerful reading glass, showed sparkling ice crystals.

Mr. Potter: Assuming these facts to be true, I put it to you there is no doubt that the fish was frozen in the true sense and the latent heat extracted?—Yes, that is right. And it is quite inconsistent with your evidence that latent heat could not be extracted until the temperature reached minus 15 degrees?—Yes.

The chickens were discovered to be as hard as rock. If that is a fair description do you agree that they were frozen and the latent heat had gone?—

Hammering Chickens.

Mr. Rasey: Were the chickens cut open?

Mr. Potter: No, they were hammered.

Mr. Potter referred to a second test carried out on Saturday in the mutton room with a piece of fresh beef, six fresh eggs and two bottles of fresh milk. When the room was opened on Sunday the beef was in such a hard condition that it would hurt one's toes if he kicked it.

Mr. Rasey: You must have kicked the bone. (Laughter.)

The eggs, continued Mr. Potter, were as hard as bullets, and there was difficulty in cutting them open even with an axe. You will agree that they were in a frozen condition?—They must have been.

The milk was in ordinary Dairy Farm bottles with cardboard covers. The fat had separated from the water and was frozen quite hard. It had pushed its way out off the bottles from one to two inches above the necks. The water underneath was frozen. You will agree that that milk was frozen?—Yes.

Mr. Potter: Now, Mr. Rasey, if you like to make a similar test under the same conditions the rooms are at your disposal.

Mr. Potter produced specimens of cork taken from the engine room and store room of the hotel and put it to the witness that it was not low density cork on which Mr. Hacker had based his calculations in arriving at the loss of transmission through the walls. Counsel further made an offer to witness to do a test.

Mr. Rasey agreed to do a test, and it was the cork installed in the walls, then the working of the coefficient, which was taken at low density, would be wrong. The hearing will be resumed at 10.30 this morning.

THREE MONTHS IN CAVES.EXPERIENCE OF TWO KIDNAPPED MEN.*ALLEGATIONS AGAINST CHINESE FROM SIAM.

At the Central Magistracy yesterday, Inspector John Murphy related an interesting tale of the experience of two Chinese who were alleged to have been kidnapped in 1926. A man named Chau Hung Chuep (38), of Siam, defended by Mr. A. E. Hall, was in dock charged with having kidnapped the two men.

In outlining the case against the defendant, Inspector Murphy told Mr. A. W. G. H. Grantham that the case went back to December, 1929. It was alleged that on or about December 5, the defendant went to No. 72, Queen's Road Central, which is occupied by an electrical supply company, to interview the master. On that occasion he was accompanied by a man named Fong Pui, who was subsequently kidnapped and who would appear as a witness for the prosecution in the present case.

Defendant is alleged to have told the master of the shop that a big contract for lighting was available in the vicinity of the village of Nam Kong in Chinese territory. He suggested to the master that the latter should take a trip to the village and there examine for himself the exact nature of the electric goods required. The master, however, was too busy, and instead of going up himself, sent a foki named So Cheung.

Party Held Up.

The three men, defendant, So Cheung and Fong Pui left Hong Kong by boat on December 5. They went on by rail from Canton to Nam Kong Village where, it is alleged, the defendant guided his two companions along a road which led through the hills. When they reached a spot where there was a clump of trees, a number of men, all armed with revolvers, made their appearance and held up the party.

The armed men compelled Fong Pui and So Cheung to divest themselves of their clothing, and the prosecution allege that the robbers did not interfere with the defendant. The two men, after they were stripped, were taken to caves on the hillside and the defendant is supposed to have gone on with the robbers.

Chained and Manacled.

When they got to the caves in the hillsides, the victims were chained and manacled. They were both kept in caves for about three months, and during that time letters were written to the relatives of the victims in Hong Kong. One of the victims, it is alleged, was ransomed by his mother for $1,000, and the other is supposed to have cost his relatives $500.

Besides payment in money the relatives of both victims had to hand over a number of torches, cigarettes, etc., as a preliminary to negotiations. When the negotiations were concluded the victims were taken back to their relatives who waited in Chinese territory.

Handed Money Over.

One of the witnesses would say, said Inspector Murphy, that she actually handed money to defendant.

Commenting on the defendant's appearance, Inspector Murphy said: "The defendant has a rather peculiar appearance. He is one of those persons who, once seen, could never be forgotten. He has a very peculiar face, and furthermore, anybody could identify him by his voice, if you once hear him speak."

Defendant was arrested on June 8 this year in Yau-mati on the application of one of the victims. Inspector Murphy told the Court that the defendant, when arrested, had been manacled and chained. He had been asked to produce witnesses but had replied at the time that he had no witnesses to produce. After hearing some of the evidence, Mr. Grantham adjourned the case.

CORRESPONDENCE.A HINT ON TAX-COLLECTING.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—In your issue of the 21st inst. your correspondent "Citizen" pointed out that it might be expedient for the Hong Kong Government, as a means of raising more revenue to make both ends meet, to impose a double stamp-duty on transfers of property, which, in a measure, would check the knot of wantonly speculative landlords in the Colony.

Along that line, it is pertinent to suggest that the proposed stamp-duty be made applicable to the hypothecation of properties to the local banks, for herein lies the core of the evil, in that so long as reckless speculators could count on the banks to accept hypothecation, they would pursue their exploits unchecked and undaunted. At least it would mean some appreciable difference to property speculation.

Speaking of landlords, the writer is reminded to add here also a word on the assessment-tax. It seems that the loudest hue and cry raised against this taxation comes from those who are property-owners, and it is far from their mind that they are thinking of the hardship inflicted on tenants and the people in general. The Devil can quote Scripture to suit his own purpose!

—Yours truly,

ANTI-HUMBUG.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOT QUACKERY.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR:—There was much of interest to Christian Scientists in your timely editorial, "Should a doctor tell," published yesterday; particularly the statement that "medical men every day see the immense influence exercised by spiritual and mental factors which can kill or may cure." They take exception, however, when a German physician includes Christian Scientists amongst quacks, and permission is respectfully requested to correct this statement.

Webster defines a quack, in part, as "a boastful pretender to medical skill," a definition which could never be truthfully applied to a genuine Christian Science practitioner, who completely eschews medical theories. Christian Science practice is the utilisation of the law of God in the healing of sickness and sin, as demonstrated by Christ Jesus, the apostles and early Christians. The practice of Christian Science may be defined as the power of God, "who healeth all thine iniquities." The Christian healing recorded throughout the Holy Scriptures and reinstated in Christian Science, is not "quackery... hidden under the cloak of religion," it is one of the effects of religion rightly understood and applied.

Nowadays, few fair-minded doctors designate Christian Science as quackery; on the contrary, many of them have attested that Christian Science does heal all types of disease. Sir William Barrett, F.R.S., the eminent British physician and investigator, in a book on Christian Science, has said: "I am bound to say that cures, often of a very remarkable character, are effected... The marvellous improvement in the general health of persons who have become adherents to this faith is unquestionable."

Christian Scientists have no quarrel with doctors or physicians, but respect them and appreciate their earnest efforts on behalf of suffering humanity. In the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes: "Great respect is due the motives and philanthropy of the higher class of physicians... It is just to say that generally the cultured class of medical practitioners are grand men and women" (p.151,164).—Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM H. ADLER.

"BALDWIN MUST GO!"

For the third time in the history of the Conservative Party the handwriting is on the wall "B.M.G." First it was BALFOUR—that was in 1905; then it was BONAR-LAW, in 1913; now it is BALDWIN. The alleged weakness of his leadership is the reason for the latest "B.M.G." agitation, and to-day the much-abused leader is to address a meeting of Conservative members of Parliament and the Party's accepted candidates for membership. Mr. BALDWIN to-day will speak on the Conservative Party's policy, and will invite his audience to say whether they prefer to follow him or Lord BEAVERBROOK. To-day's meeting in London will be a critical one for the Conservative Party. It will mark the climax of a revolt against Mr. BALDWIN which has been going on for some months—a movement which numbers among its most active members some of the most important figures in the Party.

The present situation has been largely brought about by the two newspaper Barons—ROTHERMERE and BEAVERBROOK. For the first time in English political history a struggle for the control of party has been engineered by the Press, and it will be interesting to see how this unique situation develops. The man selected to succeed Mr. BALDWIN is Sir ROBERT HORNE. The rebels have already driven Mr. J. C. C. DAVIDSON from the chairmanship of the Conservative Party's organisation—a post to which he was personally nominated by Mr. BALDWIN. Encouraged by this success, the followers of the newspaper Barons concentrated their attack on the ex-Premier, and to-day's meeting in London is the sequel. The Conservative leader has been forced to face his enemies—and friends—and this evening will give them the choice of following BALDWIN or BEAVERBROOK.

The main issue on which this remarkable revolt has developed is that of Empire Free-trade, of which Lord BEAVERBROOK is the protagonist. Mr. BALDWIN favours economic unity within the Empire, but no taxes on foodstuffs, and it is on this point that the breach has widened. Lord BEAVERBROOK declares that Empire Free-trade is a cure for unemployment, but there must be a tariff wall against foreign foodstuffs. "We cannot get on without it. When any man talks about Empire Free-trade and says it may not be necessary to tax food just dismiss him. He is either a fool or a liar." Empire Free-trade critics with it essentially and necessarily a tax on foreign foodstuffs. Why not? It won't increase the price of food. Why? Because an increase in the price of food can only come from a shortage of supplies, and there is no shortage of supplies. The Empire has a surplus of foodstuffs far more than we require."

Mr. BALDWIN, however, is of a different opinion. Addressing a recent political meeting in London, the ex-Premier said the Conservative Party was working for the economic unity of the Empire, and that means working for freer and freer trade. "It means that you are working for the Empire era primarily, for Empire goods, and for the work of Empire hands. It means that you are working for the day when the Empire can speak with united voice on all trade matters when it has to speak with other countries and competitors."

I want to get out of your mind all question that Canada or any other Dominion is coming hat in hand to ask for anything, or we are going to them. We meet in equal conference round a table—equal to equal. If in the course of such investigations we find that the only way of helping them is by putting a tax on foreign wheat, the whole proposals in their entirety shall be put by means of popular vote, aye or no, to this country to give a democratic decision in a democratic way. I am not, so long as I lead this party, going to ask for that free hand with regard to food at the general election. There will be no food taxes at the general election."

Supported by the powerful propaganda of the BEAVERBROOK-ROTHERMERE newspapers, the Empire Free-trade Crusade has brought about a most serious political crisis. The Chief Crusader—Lord BEAVERBROOK—is in deadly earnest about what he wants, and means to have it. Mr. BALDWIN and his lieutenants are neither quite so earnest or enthusiastic in defending their point of view. The recent activities of the Junta which forced the resignation of the chairman of the Conservative Party has caused much bitter feeling among Mr. BALDWIN's loyal followers. The complacent attitude of Sir ROBERT HORNE towards the newspaper Barons in their efforts to bring down Mr. BALDWIN from his position as Leader of the Conservative Party has also caused much heartburning. To-night the slogan of "Baldwin Must Go!" will be put to a critical test. If the personal loyalty to their leader is strong enough in the Party to keep him at their head, then he will lead a disunited Party. If the meeting decides to follow the Chief Crusader, then Lord BEAVERBROOK will have the doubtful satisfaction of leading a Party which is divided on a vital issue.

"WANGLING THE WIRES."

Those who try to follow closely the development of Chinese political—which includes military—affairs must frequently feel exasperated at the contradictory character of the news presented. There are various explanations of this annoying state of things—and here let it be said that none is more annoying than the innocently offending journalist himself, for he it is who is expected by his readers to write informatively upon a subject on which he can get no reliable data for drawing deductions or to base an argument upon. The definitely stated fact of to-day becomes an absolutely discredited rumour tomorrow, and the positively untrue report of yesterday is to-day conclusively proved to be fully authenticated. It is a most aggravating state of affairs, especially to those who are really interested in current events in China, and who do most earnestly and disinterestedly desire to obtain a sound understanding of what is actually going on.

The trouble is of long-standing, and is deep-seated. Enormous distances, poor communication facilities, clever wire-pulling at sources of information, keen propagandists at the distributing end—these are some of the reasons why news of current affairs in China is always so conflicting. A recent Reuters message from Shanghai reported the arrest by the military authorities of a man actually in charge of a news service established by the Chinese Government. It is alleged that he made use of his opportunities as controller of a news channel to distribute information among foreign newspaper correspondents calculated to affect injuriously the interests of those who employed him. He is further alleged to have confessed having received money from a source hostile to the Government which employed him. If these allegations—and confessions—are authentic, foreign students of Chinese affairs will begin to understand how it is that the news they read is so contradictory. They will also begin to wonder whether it is possible—in the absence of independent and impartial sources of information—to get any reliable news at all!

Two gigantic 500-foot steel lattice are to form a new gateway to London as ships come up the Thames. They are to be erected shortly on either bank at Barking. They will carry from Barking Power Station to Kent the power cables which form part of the Central Electricity Board's "grid" for supplying cheap electricity to the whole of England. The great height of these masts—140 feet higher than the dome of St. Paul's, and nearly three times as high as the Nelson Column—is necessary in order that the cable shall clear all shipping coming up river to London. The lowest cable will be 250 feet above high-tide mark. The length of the cable between the masts will be 1,000 feet. The cables will carry the enormous pressure of 132,000 volts. In the London area they will be underground, but outside they will be carried on 80-foot steel masts set 300 yards apart.

The famous Viennese Professor von Noorden has created in the medical world a sensation when in a lecture in Vienna last week, he announced a new method of treating diabetes in preference to the insulin cure. The new treatment consists in a severely regulated and graduated dietary régime which begins with a fasting day with merely black coffee, tea, mineral water and brandy, without sugar being allowed. There follow vegetable and fruit days whereafter the dieting is worked up to meagre meat additions. Professor von Noorden stated that by applying this method he has already obtained quite remarkable results.

The Sahara Desert will be made to blossom as the rose one of these days, M. J. H. Richard believes, and then France will be one of the great agricultural nations of the world. M. Richard, formerly French Minister of Agriculture, arrived in New York recently to study machinery used in reclaiming American deserts. He hopes some means will be perfected for using radio to detect underground strata of water. Several geologists, he said, agree that vast layers of water beneath the Sahara, and at El Golea, in South Algeria, underground water has been pumped to the surface and used to grow rose bushes 10 feet high.

Ambulance men, who were summoned by telephone arrived quickly, and administered oxygen as the boy lay in the street, in the hope of reviving him. He died on the way to St. Thomas' Hospital.

One tomb of the 12th Dynasty burial (2,000 B.C.) contained amethyst and lapis lazuli necklaces and other jewellery, and a string of exquisite miniature amulets, cut in cornelian, jasper, and lapis lazuli.

A British sergeant of the Palestine police named William Singleton, was murdered recently when walking with a Jewish girl at the Haifa end of Acre beach, Jerusalem. The police cannot explain the crime, but gather that the murderer followed the couple, calling Singleton a Jew. He was driven off, but returned a quarter of an hour later and shot the sergeant dead. Singleton was formerly in the Irish Constabulary.

The Turkish National Assembly has passed a Bill granting for 23 years a match monopoly to an American concern in exchange for a loan amounting to ten million dollars and an annual income to the treasury of 1,800,000 Turkish pounds.

Turning on the hot water tap instead of the cold tap when about to have a bath led to the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Margaret Ewing, widow of Colonel Alexander Ewing. It was stated at a Taunton inquest that, though 83 years of age, she was in the habit of having a cold bath every morning. Recently she turned on the hot tap by mistake and scalded her feet. The shock accelerated heart failure. A verdict accordingly was returned.

The police in Berlin are offering a large reward for information leading to the arrest of the young men, believed to be either Fascists or Communists, who smashed the window panes of the Polish Consulate-General in Berlin. The Press unanimously condemns this outbreak of hooliganism and asks the authorities to adopt stern measures for the prevention of similar outrages.

In a recent cricket match at Wanstead, London, the last three batsmen were dismissed without any addition to the score. Shortly after the incident, two real ducks settled on the pitch, walking round the wicket, and then proceeded towards the pavilion, with an air of being entitled to follow the procession of cricket "ducks."

Against the votes of the German, the Socialist, and Communist deputies the Silesian Diet last week passed a motion prohibiting the use of the German language in parliamentary debates. This is expected to react very badly on German-Polish relations and on the prospects of peaceful co-operation between the German and Polish population in the former German province.

A Chinese student, Florence Hawang, has won a Phi Beta Kappa key at Hunter College, New York. Miss Hawang, who holds the Barbour scholarship for Oriental women, will enter the University of Michigan this summer. When her studies are completed she will return to China for the American Baptist Mission Board. She is a native of Swatow, but was educated in the United States.

Mr. E. I. Wynne Jones, District Officer, received an injury to his knee on Saturday while he was driving from Tai-po to Kowloon. Owing to the wet state of the road, the car skidded and Mr. Wynne Jones was thrown on to the instrument board. Fortunately, however, he escaped with a minor injury.

Frederick Hazlett Brennan, who made the adaptation for "A Song of Kentucky," now playing at the Queen's Theatre, also adapted for the screen the highly successful Earl Derr Biggers' story, "Behind That Curtain." Brennan, who was born in St. Louis, was a prominent newspaper-man in that city before he took up story-writing.

Looking Back 25 Years.

"Money was never tighter" at "Hong Kong," said a broker to a Daily Press reporter yesterday. "Shares that under normal conditions should now be attracting buyers are stagnant, because there is no money loose to play with. No; it is not Europeans, but Chinese. Few people realise how hard hit they have been; how many failures and private arrangements there have been; and it is not over yet. Togo's famous victory should have sent exchange down with a run, and that it didn't may be taken as some sign of the truth of what I tell you. Prospects generally are excellent; but until the local stringency in Chinatown is eased, there will be little doing for us."—Hong Kong Daily Press, June 24, 1905.

Looking Back 50 Years.

During the thunderstorm yesterday lightning struck Mr. Romano's house, "Duart," about half-past three, and the occupants had what must be regarded as a most narrow escape. It appears the lightning struck the flag-staff and running along one of the iron supporting stays entered through the roof into Mr. Romano's dressing-room. "In a room on one side of this Mr. Romano was sleeping, and in one on the other side three children and an amah. The flash was seen to rush around one of these rooms, and as the windows were closed, it would have entered the room. The aperture it had made in its entry. One of the children had a sensation of suffocation for a few minutes afterwards, but beyond this no personal injury was sustained, and the damage to the house is of small extent."—Hong Kong Daily Press, June 24, 1880.

SIMON COMMISSION'S REPORT ON INDIA.

SECOND VOLUME COMPRISES UNANIMOUS RECOMMENDATIONS.

NORTH-WEST DEFENCE AN IMPELIAL FUNCTION.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S RESPONSIBILITY.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 23. The second volume of the Report of the Simon Commission on India has been issued.

It comprises the unanimous recommendations of the Commissioners.

Federal Constitution.

It says that the ultimate Constitution must be Federal.

As regards the units of a Federation of British India, the present provinces are in no way ideal areas for self-government. The Government of India should appoint a Boundaries Commission to adjust the provincial boundaries. There should be a maximum of provincial autonomy, involving the abolition of the dyarchy (the system of dividing the administration between the local and the central governments).

"Each province should be mistress in her own house." Burma should be definitely excluded from the new polity, and she should have her own Governor, who should not be subordinate to the Viceroy.

India-Burma Affairs.

"The point at which India and Burma affairs might be co-ordinated is London, not Delhi."

Provincial Legislatures.

The Provincial Legislatures should be increased in size, and based on an enfranchisement of 10 per cent. of the total population, which is the present electorate.

Women Voters.

The Report proposes a "substantial increase" in women voters.

Provincial Cabinet.

The provinces should be administered by a Provincial Cabinet chosen by the Governor, who would have overriding powers for certain defined purposes.

Federal Assembly.

The Legislative Assembly should be reconstituted as a new central organ, entitled, "The Federal Assembly," and composed of members mainly chosen by the Provincial Councils by a method of proportional representation.

Legislative and Financial Powers.

The Council of State to be retained as heretofore. The existing legislative and financial powers of the two central Chambers should remain as at present, but the Federal Assembly should vote certain indirect taxes to be collected by a central agency.

The Central Executive should be the Governor-General in Council. The Governor-General and not the Secretary of State should appoint the Councilors.

Head of the Government.

The Governor-General must continue not only to be the representative of the King Emperor in all formal ceremonial matters, but the actual head and the active head of the Government.

The British Parliament should still be responsible for future decisions.

It is impossible to provide at this stage as much latitude for change in a central sphere as in a provincial constitution. The Executive Council cannot be "responsible" to the Indian Legislature. The British Parliament is responsible to the British Parliament.

Until the provinces establish themselves as self-governing units the ultimate form of Central Government cannot be fully determined.

Gateway of North-West Must Be Safely Held.

"Throughout the period that India is on the road to self-government," the Report emphasises, "the gateway of the North-West should be safely held. The army in India must be strong enough for the task. We hold that for many years the presence of British troops and British officers serving with Indian regiments, to be essential."

India's Defence.

Regarding the constitutional problem and India's defence, the Report proposes that the Governor-General, advised by the Commander-in-Chief as representing the Imperial authorities, should be responsible instead of the Government of India. Thus the defence of the North-West Frontier should become an Imperial function as a "matter of supreme concern to the whole Empire."

Grave Dangers of Internal Disturbances.

The Report alludes to the equally grave dangers of internal disturbances involving not only the problem of the preservation of law and order.

"The life of millions in India depends literally on the existence of a thoroughly efficient administrative machine." Therefore, while prepared to recommend a considerable advance towards self-government, the Commissioners emphasise that "we must be a power able to step in and save the situation."

The Governor-General and Governors must be armed with full and ample powers, and the impartial power must at present be maintained to protect minorities.

The Indian Civil Service and the Indian Police Service must continue to be recruited as All-India services by the Secretary of State.

The High Courts should be centralised.

Council for Greater India.

Finally, as a beginning in the direction of an All-India Federation, the Report proposes the creation of a "Council for Greater India" for organised consultation between British India and the States.

Principles Which Guided Commission.

The Commissioners explain that they had been guided by the following principles:—

(1) The new Constitution should contain within itself provision for its own development. "Where further legislation is required it should result from the needs of the time and not from the arbitrary demand of a fixed time-table."

(2) Constitutional changes should be concerned with the future development when All-India and not merely British India will take her place in the Empire. The new Constitution should provide the open-door whereby when it seems good to them the ruling Princes may enter on reasonable and just terms.

(3) "The fundamentals of Government" must be safeguarded.

The Commissioners, alluding to the Governors of the Provinces, say that the essence of their plan will "afford Indians the opportunity of the provincial sphere how far the British system of Parliamentary Government fitted their needs and the natural genius of the people, and it must be realised that the change involved was very great and far-reaching."

CHINESE CUSTOMS CRISIS.

CHANG HSUEH LIANG RE-OPENS CHINWANGTAO.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, June 23. It is understood that Chang Hsueh Liang has reopened the Chinwangtao Customs House, which Mr. Francis Hayley Bell, as a matter of routine, closed on Friday as a sub-station of Tientsin. It is believed that Chang Hsueh Liang's motive is the necessity for maintaining Chinwangtao as a port of entry for Manchuria.

CONSULAR BODY'S RECOMMENDATION.

TIENTSIN, June 23. It is understood that at a further meeting of the Consular Body held this morning, it was decided to recommend their respective Legations to recognise the taking over of the Tientsin Customs as fait accompli.

"Worst Is Over."

In the meantime, the Customs seems to-day to be working at full blast, though the methods are necessarily slipshod with the large army of newly-engaged Chinese and a number of foreign supervisors, who are styled "emergency officers."

Mr. Lenox Simpson says that "the worst is over," and he hopes within a week to have command of a fairly efficient staff, including a number of ex-Customs Germans formerly dismissed for purely political reasons.

It is understood that good pay and inducements are offered to all applicants. The old staff, with the exception of a number of Chinese tidewaiters, continue to follow the Inspector-General's instructions and have not reported for work.

ARCHIVES UNDER LOCK AND KEY.

(Wah Tsi Yat Pao.)

TIENTSIN, June 23. Mr. Lenox Simpson is considering the stoppage of the collection at the Shanghai Customs House of the duties on cargoes destined for Tientsin.

Though the majority of the Customs staff have returned to work, they have nothing to do, as the important papers and archives are locked up in the safe of the Customs House.

The Native Customs has been resumed.

British Minister Invited to Nanking.

NANKING, June 23. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has again wired to the British Legation inviting Sir Miles Lampson, the British Minister, to come to Nanking to discuss the matter regarding Mr. Simpson's assumption of office.

The Central Political Council called a meeting yesterday to discuss the affair, when some decisions were reached, the nature of which, however, were not divulged.

Temporary Duty Free Port.

TIENTSIN, June 23. In connection with the Customs "crisis" the French and Italian Consuls proposed at a meeting that Tientsin should become a duty-free port for the time being until the "crisis" is over.

Payment of Duties After "Crisis" Is Over.

It was also proposed that cargoes arriving at Tientsin should be registered at the Consulates, the duties to be paid when the "crisis" is over.

SHANGHAI RESOLUTION.

(Wah Tsi Yat Pao.)

NANKING, June 23. The four Ministries of the Interior, Communications, Navy and Labour and Commerce are forming a committee for the retrocession of Weihaiwei.

GOVERNORS CONFER

SECOND MEETING IN THREE YEARS.

BIG COLONIAL PROBLEMS.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

ROOBY, June 22. The Colonial Governors' Conference is to be opened at the Colonial Office to-morrow by Lord Passfield, Secretary of State for the Colonies. The Conference is held in accordance with a suggestion made at the first conference in 1927 that such gatherings should be held at triennial intervals for the consideration of questions of importance to the Colonies.

Nearly the whole of the Colonial territory, which has an approximate area of 2,000,000 square miles and supports a population of about 50,000,000, lies within the tropics.

Administrative, financial and legislative each Colony is self-contained and there is a wide diversity of race, language, resources and needs.

They have a common interest, however, in certain services such as medical, agricultural and public works, regarding which a periodical exchange of views is regarded as valuable.

The Conference which opens to-morrow is expected to sit for about three weeks, and there will be three main subjects for discussion, namely, Colonial development, with special reference to the working and application of the Colonial Development Fund; secondly, administration of scientific and technical services; and, thirdly, problems of Colonial administration in general.

MALAYAN RUBBER PRODUCTION.

RESTORATION OF GOVERNMENT RESTRICTION.

DUTCH AND CEYLON CO-OPERATION NECESSARY.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 22. The Kuala Lumpur correspondent of the Financial Times, referring to the Asiatic Rubber Producers' meeting on Saturday, when a sub-committee was appointed to consider schemes to remedy the depression in the industry, says the overwhelming consensus of opinion favoured the restoration of Government restriction, with the proviso that the co-operation of Dutch and Ceylon planters must be secured and that tapping must be stopped on Sunday and on another day every week.

DRUG SEIZURE AT MARSEILLES.

DESTINED FOR SAIGON AND SHANGHAI.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

PARIS, June 22. A ton of narcotics, valued at $30,000, was seized by Customs officers at Marseilles. The drugs were concealed in cases landed by an Italian steamer which arrived from Turkey.

Some of the cases had been placed on board the steamer for shipment to the Far East. The seizure was a result of information received in Paris that an international organisation proposed to send a cargo of cocaine, heroin and morphine from Stamboul to Marseilles, to be transhipped there for Saigon and Shanghai.

THE LONDON SEASON.

TO-NIGHT'S BALL.

BRILLIANT SOCIETY FUNCTION.

[LONDON, June 23.]

London society is expected to turn out en masse to-night at the Midsummer Eve's Ball, one of the most brilliant functions of the season, which is under the special patronage of the Prince of Wales.

The ball, which is in aid of the Greater London Fund for the Blind, will take place at the Ambassador Club, and coincides with the Prince's birthday which is to-day. In addition to the Prince, the American, Argentine and Belgian Ambassadors and their wives have agreed to be patrons. All of them, in company with a number of other Ambassadors and Ministers, are expected to be present in person.

A feature of the affair is that it will be conducted on the lines of a private party, tickets being strictly limited. Another feature is the number of this year's debutantes who are to be found listed on the ticket-selling committee. They include some of the most beautiful girls in England.

Midnight Pageant.

Beside the ball a "Midnight Pageant" is to be presented. It will represent episodes from Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." A number of well-known society women have promised to participate.

Among those taking an active part in the organisation of the function are Lady Diana Cooper, Princess Asla Yilmaz, Margaret Bannerman, the actress, and Miss Ellaline Macey, who was one of the principal organisers of the "Perfect Dinner and Perfect Music" in honour of the Queen of Spain last year.

The patrons of the ball include Constance Duchess of Westminster, Mrs. Ronald Greville, the Marchioness of Londonderry, the Countess of Oxford and Asquith, Violet, Duchess of Rutland, and many others.

MALTA'S CABINET.

RESIGNATION NOT CONFIRMED.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

LONDON, June 23. Lord Strickland, Prime Minister of Malta, says he has no confirmation of a Press report of the resignation of the Cabinet, and the report is discredited here.

MONSOON DRENCHES PARADERS.

BOMBAY PROCESSION FIZZLES OUT.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

BOMBAY, June 22. To-day had been fixed for a monster procession of Ghandhites in sympathy with the Garhwali sepoys who were recently court-martialled on account of their unsatisfactory behaviour during the rioting at Peshawar.

The Congress "War Council," in defiance of the official ban, planned all the details of the demonstration. The police took elaborate precautions and blocked all roads from the Congress headquarters. A company of the East Lancashire Regiment was posted in readiness, but then down came the monsoon rain and everything was literally washed out.

The situation in Bombay continues quiet.

AMERICAN FOREIGN TRADE.

EXPORTS SHOW INCREASE.

SIGNIFICANT STATEMENT BY COMMERCE SECRETARY.

[REUTERS' AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, June 22.

In a speech here to-day Mr. Robert Lamont, the Secretary for Commerce, said that the new Tariff Bill, recently signed by President Hoover, would not retard the amazing growth of American foreign trade. After the tariff in 1922 there were as many protests from foreign countries as were received during the present year, and in the seven years since the last tariff was enforced America's total exports had increased by 41 per cent.

In the period from 1922 to 1929 imports of manufactures from Europe rose 45 per cent. He stated significantly that the United Kingdom was the only important European country from which the United States had purchased less in 1929 than in 1922. This decline, however, was not due to changes in American duty rates. During the same period the exports of manufactured goods increased by practically 100 per cent. annually.

FORMER FRENCH PREMIER PREDICTS DISASTROUS RESULTS FOR EUROPE.

PARIS, June 19.—Writing in his paper, L'Ere Nouvelle, the former Premier, M. Herriot, appeals to Europe to unite against the new United States tariff. Unless this is done without delay, the former Premier asserts, Europe must inevitably perish because her industries will be ruined and her countries reduced to misery and unemployment by having to pay to the United States under the existing agreements without, on the other hand, being able to supply the United States with goods.

The remainder of the French Press, with but few exceptions, continues the bitter attacks on the United States tariff policy, with L'Avenir now pressing for a boycott of American goods with the slogan "If the United States close their ports against our imports we must close our purse against their exports."

Cost of Producing to be Investigated.

[UNITED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Senate to-day adopted a resolution introduced by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, directing the Federal Tariff Commission to investigate the cost of production at home and abroad of several items included in the new tariff.

The items especially emphasized were furniture, cement, shoes and farm implements, all considered of special importance to the farmer. Senator Borah has been contending that the rates on these items were excessive. His resolution did not, however, question the new tariff law.

Cuban Sugar.

Senator Reed Smoot of Utah declared that the discrepancy in the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, which will allow Cuban sugar producers to send refined sugar into the United States as cheaply as raw in certain instances, is not sufficient to cause alarm or warrant a correction at present.

The mistake makes the duty on refined sugar 12 cents instead of 14 cents a hundred pounds, and this is not considered sufficient to result in the erection of refineries in Cuba.

SLUMP IN STOCK MARKET.

RACE TO FORESTALL NEW DUTIES.

[UNITED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Hoover signed the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Bill to-day, making it law. The measure goes into effect at midnight to-night.

In signing the Bill, Mr. Hoover fulfilled pre-election pledges of tariff changes which he strove to put into effect through a special session of Congress and which have barely found fulfilment during the closing days of the regular session.

Primarily designed as an aid to the farmer, the Bill in its final form has been declared injurious to both farm interests and to the interests of the common people of the country generally, and Western Republicans have been among its most bitter opponents.

Considerable alarm has been caused by yesterday's severe slump in the stock market, attributed to the new tariff. A possible foreign reciprocal action which might cut down American exports and thus further intensify the unemployment situation through supporters of the Bill, declare the slump to be unconnected with the tariff.

STEAMER AGROUND AT CHUNGKING.

MAY BE A B. & S. SHIP.

According to a Naval wireless message, a report was received from the Japanese steamer Anzan Maru from Chungking to the effect that the s.s. Wanhui, a B. & S. vessel, is ashore on Tatui Tze Rock, and requires assistance. A British gunboat is going to her aid, while the s.s. Fuling Maru is standing by.

Interviewed by our representative, an official of Butterfield & Swire said that they knew nothing about the matter beyond what was given in the Naval wireless message. If it was one of their vessels, then it must be the Wanhui, as they have no steamer called the Wanhui. It was probable, however, that it was the Wanhui, for this vessel is on the Yangtze service. In that case, there will be no news about her for some time, for whatever help is required will be provided by the people in Hankow.

EUROPE MOTOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

DAY'S ENDURANCE TEST.

BRITISH CARS' SUPERIORITY.

[THROUGH REUTERS' AGENCY.]

LE MANS, June 22.

The road motor championship of Europe, otherwise the twenty-four hours' endurance test, resulted in a triumph for British cars.

Captain Woolf Barnato and Commander Glen-Kidston, driving a Bentley car, came in first. They covered 2,629 kilometres at an average speed of 112 kilometres an hour.

Another Bentley was second with Talbot taking the third and fourth places.

LATER.

Capt. Woolf Barnato and Lieut. Commander Glen-Kidston won at an average speed of 111 miles an hour for the full 24 hours, this speed constituting a record.

There was a thrilling duel at night between a Bentley driven by Capt. Birkin and a Mercedes with Caracciola, the German ace of Italian descent, at the wheel.

An enormous crowd waited up all night to cheer the two cars as they hurtled through the pitch darkness, one on the heels of the other at a speed of over 110 miles an hour.

The Mercedes broke down at three o'clock in the morning, and Captain Birkin subsequently retired, having sacrificed his own chance of winning the race by driving all out to "blow-up" the Germans.

America was the next to fall out of the race.

One American Stutz car caught fire and had to be abandoned. Another also dropped out, leaving Italy, represented by an Alfa Romeo, and France, represented by a Bugatti with two women drivers, to contest the race with the British cars.

The Alfa Romeo finished fourth.

The Bugatti went steadily though not very fast and completed the course.

This was the first time that women had competed in the race.

Steamer Race for Port.

New York, June 17.—Nine steamships are racing for the port of New York in an attempt to land their cargoes before midnight to-night and thus escape the new higher duties of the Smoot-Hawley Tariff.

The Olympic is carrying $1,000,000 worth of French lace, which is among the articles against which new increased duties have been imposed—to such degree as to bring reciprocal French action against American moderate-priced motor-cars.

Merchants are meanwhile rushing goods from bonded warehouses in an effort to avoid excess duties. They have already paid $817,000,000 in duties on account of the rush. Major commercial readjustments will at once be the order of the day, with prices climbing steeply on many imported commodities. Opponents of the new tariff have estimated its cost to the American consumer as $1,000,000,000 each year.

Boycott Suggested in France.

PARIS, June 17.—L'Avenir, a newspaper closely connected with Under Secretary for Economics M. Francois Poncet, published a startling manifesto to-day, asking the French people to boycott American goods as a reply to the new United States tariff.

The paper says, "is noxious to Europe in general and to France in particular. While not going to this length, most of the Paris papers now urge the institution of a pan-European tariff and economic co-operation of Europe against the United States."

Sports News

Hong Kong at Play.

SPORTS NOTES AND COMMENTS.

[By "BROADCASTER".]

Lawn bowlers completed their engagements in full last Saturday, and once again nothing happened to disturb the uneasiness which prevails in rival camps. Civil Service seniors went over to Taikeo to take the points by the narrow margin of one shot. It would have been a different tale had Grimmitt and Gregory failed to carry their third rink. Taikeo had had luck again in losing by a small margin, their previous effort at home going against them by two shots. Craigengower beat Kowloon Dock by four shots—in their previous match Craigengower won by five shots. Here again Bradbury's rink for the first time had to depend on his two colleagues to carry him through. Civil Service and Craigengower are again in the same position, each side having lost one match. The Bowling Green Club avenged their away defeat when they received Kowloon C.C. This result demonstrated the inconsistent form of the cricketers, who only the previous week went to Civil Service and lowered their colours. The Police lost again to Club de Reereio, to find themselves in the position of having lost all their matches and with 185 shots down.

Competitors in the junior division have been left behind by Civil Service and the Bowling Green, who have now won all their seven matches. The record is likely to be maintained until the time comes when they have to meet each other—a pleasure which they were deprived of the other day owing to rain. The Valley team beat Club de Reereio by 17 shots, while the Kowloon Bowlers defeated the Electricians by 33 shots. For the winners Drake's rink alone had a majority of 33 shots. The Yacht Club were in great form when they beat Taikeo by 35 shots, Macfarlane's rink contributing 34 points. An exciting finish marked the match at Kowloon C.C., where Craigengower lost by two shots.

Although racing is out of season at the moment, I think there are quite a number who still anxiously follow the latest racing news. These will be interested to hear that no fewer than ninety subscription griffins have been ordered for the 1931 Annual Meeting, and that a few extra ones will be included in the shipment. The sub. races for the present year have been extremely interesting, and there are comparatively few animals which did not share the stake money in some race or other. Tonbridge proved to be the best sub, with Tango and Bridge Hall next.

It is interesting to note the raising of the height limit for racing in Hong Kong, but it is extremely doubtful whether any of the bigger ponies racing here in future can lower some of the extremely fast times returned at the last annual meeting. Up to one mile the performances of Apollo were really good, and for the longer distances it is not assuming too much to say that the performances of Diana Bay and Sitting Bull will remain for a long time on the local racing records.

There will be a first class grass-track at Happy Valley when racing is resumed there in the autumn. From the village bend all the way up the straight the course is being widened. The turf looks better than it ever did during the last ten years, and apparently no pains are being spared to make things as good as possible at Happy Valley.

Judging from the large crowds which patronise the bathing-benches at North Point, it would seem that the Chinese have taken to swimming quite seriously—that is to say, not merely as a recreation but also as a sport in the competitive sense. I understand that the membership of the three leading Clubs at North Point runs into several thousand. Of the night as well, the benches are thronged with people, and quite a good business is done by hiring dinghies and skiffs. Each club, moreover, has a small area fenced off for such of their members who are interested in speed swimming or water-polo.

Speaking of water-polo reminds me that this season the V.R.C. again appear to have an easy march to victory in the senior division of the league. By the way, the R.A. and the S.C.A.A. had a friendly game on Sunday at North Point, and the match was watched by a large crowd. The soldiers went under by 3 goals, the final score being 5-3.

The weather on Saturday was ideal for tennis and the standard of play in some of the matches I saw was indeed very high. Interest seems to be lagging in the "A" division, for now that the C.R.C. have lost one game (against K.C.C. who did very well to win), there is no other team to beat the Indians. It appears that they will win the "A" Mixed Doubles, and if they should come out top dogs in their meeting with the Chinese this afternoon, they will carry off "B" division honours as well. The C.R.C., however, are a tough lot, and while the opinion in some quarters is that they will find the Sookunpoo lads rather a handful, others confidently express the view that they—the C.R.C.—are invincible. The match this afternoon, therefore, should be one worth going to see as whoever wins, there will no doubt be some first class tennis in evidence.

According to the fixture card, there are two games in the "B" division due to be decided tomorrow. In addition to these, there will be three in the "C" section, and here the Indians and Chinese will meet. I predict an easy win for the latter in spite of the fact that the L.R.C. lads are playing very well just now. The meeting between the University Tennis Club and Filipino Club should be productive of some interesting if not very classy tennis.

The full programme for the next night fete arranged by the V.R.C. for July 5 is as follows. It can be seen at once that those who attend are in for a feast of aquatic events:—
1.—50 yards handicap—members.
2.—50 yards breaststroke—handicap—ladies.
3.—100 yards—four styles—open to the Colony.
4.—One length—under water swim—members.
5.—Mixed team race.
6.—Midnight race—ladies to wear pyjamas and gentlemen nightgowns—each to hold a lighted candle and swim one length.
7.—Water polo—Services v. Chinese.

MEIJI TENNIS STARS.

VISIT TO HONG KONG: EXHIBITION GAMES ARRANGED.

When the m.v. Asama Maru made fast to her wharf yesterday, seven tennis players from the Meiji University, Japan, who are on their way to Manila for a holiday, stepped on to Hong Kong where they will stay until the 29th inst. They are Messrs. Matsuo, T. Fujikura, N. Komatsu, H. Okamoto, S. Sagara, J. Fujikura and I. Seo. They are accompanied by Professor Y. Matsudaira of the University.

Arrangements have been made to stage exhibition games between the visitors and some of the local stars, and the first of these games, will, we are informed, take place on the Kowloon Cricket Club courts on Friday, 27th inst., commencing at 4.30 p.m., and again the following day at the same hour.

The programme, during their stay here will be:—

To-day:—Practice on the C.C.C. courts.

Wednesday:—Practice on the Reereio courts.

Thursday:—Practice on the K.C.C. courts.

Friday and Saturday:—Exhibition games on the K.C.C. courts.

The visitors had a "knock-out" on the C.R.C. courts last evening, and those present were impressed by their play. They are a hard-hitting lot and when they get used to the local courts, they will no doubt give better accounts of themselves.

Interviewed by our representative, Professor Matsudaira, who is the leader of the party, said that they left Yokohama on June 10, and although he had himself been here twice before, the rest of the party are here for the first time, and although they have only been here already made a favourable impression on them.

Professor Matsudaira, who is the son and heir of Marquis Matsudaira, plays a good game of tennis himself, and he mentioned that this

INDIANS AND CHINESE TO CLASH IN "B" DIVISION.

RECORDS OF THE TEAMS FOR THE SEASON.

On the Indian Recreation Club courts this afternoon, the Chinese Recreation Club will engage their friendly rivals in their league match in the "B" division, and everything points towards a very close and interesting game.

These teams are the only unbeaten ones in this section of the local tennis league, and while the Chinese are at the top of the league table with the maximum number of points out of ten matches played, the Indians are only a point behind with a match in hand, so that they will start on equal terms. Below, we give the record of the teams for the season. As far as the big match is concerned, the Indians will have the advantage of playing at home. Both teams will no doubt turn out at full strength as it will be more than probable that the winners will carry off the shield for the season.

As far as form is concerned, the opinion seems to be that the Indians are now playing at their very best so that the Chinese will have to be very good indeed to lower their colours. The game starts at 4.30 p.m. sharp and there will no doubt be a very large number of "fans" to see the two giants of the "B" division battling to maintain their unbeaten record.

The Chinese Recreation Club have played ten games so far, and have beaten

Nippon Club	6-3
M.B.K.	7-1
Reereio	5-1
E.Y.M.C.A.	9-0
H.K.C.C.	8-1
University	8-1
U.S.R.C.	7-2
K.C.C.	8-0
R.E.S.C.	6-3
C.S.C.C.	7-2
while the Indians have scored victories over
E.Y.M.C.A.	8-1
S.C.A.A.	6-2
U.S.R.C.	5-1
K.C.C.	9-0
C.S.C.C.	8-0
R.E.S.C.	5-4
H.K.C.C.	7-2
Reereio	8-0
University	8-1

It will be seen that the records are very nearly the same except in the game against Club de Reereio (at one time considered to be a serious contender for league honours). Here the Indians showed better form, for whereas the C.R.C. had to be content with claiming the point by the narrow margin of a set, the Indians took it without even conceding a single set.

trip to Manila was only decided on a few days ago. They left Japan with the intention of touring Shanghai and Tientsin, but as conditions in the latter port are far from settled, they were advised to change their programme.

In Manila they hope to have quite a few games, and as the trip is in the nature of a holiday coupled with a tennis tour, they will play as much as possible. When they passed through Shanghai on their way here, there was no time for them to play tennis there, but they have already made arrangements to play four games there on their way home.

When asked how they liked our courts, the Professor said that this was the first time his boys played on grass courts, but they liked them very much and felt sure that after three days they will become quite used to them. In Japan, they had clay courts with the exception of one or two private ones, but that didn't matter a lot, as after one game, the boys are already "getting into it."

The best singles man among the players here is M. Matsuo, who, just a few days before they left Japan beat Kawachi (ranked twelfth in Japan) in an inter-collegiate tournament. He also beat Fujisawa (eleventh man in Japanese tennis circles) in the same tournament, so that he is now among the first ten in his country. With Sagara they make the best pair as far as doubles is concerned amongst the lot, and these two had the distinction of being invited to take part in the Invitation Tournament in Japan, when only the best players are asked.

They also played in the singles in the same tournament. Fujikura is the junior-singles champion of Japan. He is only 19 years of age, and with his brother, J. Fujikura, they won the junior doubles championship of their country.

TENNIS STARS AT WIMBLEDON.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, June 23.

One hundred and twenty-eight men, representatives of 25 nations, including the youthful America, Japan, France, Australia and Great Britain, will open the Wimbledon tournament to-day, which will be confined to the men's singles.

The American Allison has the honour of opening on the world-renowned centre court programme against Moon, the Australian champion.

LATER.
In the first round, Allison beat Moon 6-1, 6-5 and 6-3.

THIS WEEK'S GATHERING.

WIMBLEDON, June 23.

A galaxy of new faces, new names, and familiar faces with different names, among the women competitors is the great drawing-card of the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships.

This tournament, the fifty-fourth Wimbledon meeting, creates a record for the number of women net-cord stars who have taken unto themselves a husband since the previous championship meeting.

The Matrons.

The new matrons are headed by Mrs. Helen Wills-Moody who, as "Poker-face" Helen Wills, held the championship since 1927 and looks good enough to retain it for another year. Others who have entered into matrimony are Mrs. Fearnley Whittingstall (Eileen Bennett), Mrs. L. G. Owen (Miss Violet Chamberlain), Mrs. M. Mayne (Miss C. Lumley-Ellis) and Mrs. J. B. Pittman (Miss Elsie Goldsack). All these, together with Mrs. Leslie Godfree (Miss Kitty McKane) and Mrs. Randolph Lycett (Miss Joan Austin), both of whom were married a couple of years ago and are now mothers, are entered in the tournament. Other net queens who have drawn crowds to Wimbledon in past tournaments, but who are absent this year, are Mrs. Roy Cozens, who as Miss Daphne Akhurst, was Australian champion, and Mrs. Hamish Munro, formerly Evelyn Colyer, whose husband has taken her off to his Assam tea plantation.

The newly-weds attending the meeting to-day will be only spectators, for the first day's play is devoted to eliminating the rabbits among the men competitors. The women will probably be given their first chances to-morrow.

The Male Stars.

The male stars to be seen in action on the courts this afternoon include many of the highest position holders in the world's ranking list, for the meeting again brought the masters here in search of a crown or two.

From the United States come "Big Bill" Tilden, Francis Hunter, George Lot, John Doeg, J. Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison and Wilbur Coen, Jr., while the women included Helen Wills Moody, Helen Jacobs, Sarah Palfrey, Mianne Palfrey, Edith Cross, and Mary Greif.

The French Contingent.

The French attempt to retain the men's title is being led by Henri Cochet who beat his fellow countryman Jean Borotra in the final last year. Borotra, Jacques Brugnon, Pierre Landry and Christian Bousset are there to support him.

Takeichi Harada, Yoshiro Ohta, Tamio Ahe, and Hyotaro Sato, of the Japanese team, are names to conjure with, for they have proved during recent Davis Cup ties that they are to be classed among the world's leading players.

Britain's Hopes.

Britain's hopes are vested in H. Wilfred Austin, Dr. J. Colin Gregory, Ian G. Collins, Harold Lee and George Hughes.

Germany, Italy, Spain, India, Austria, Hungary, Australia, Ireland, South Africa, Belgium and New Zealand each entered a strong force in an effort to win one of the five titles for decision.

The majority of the seats for the whole fortnight's tournament were sold months ago, and a huge crowd gathered at the gates of the INDIANS AND SENATORS BEATEN.

New York, June 17.—With the American League-leading Athletics taking a rest to-day and keeping their percentage at .607, the Cleveland Indians took a drubbing from the Yankees and moved down to .593 while the Senators suffered likewise at the hands of the Browns and kept the Indians tied at the same figure.

Eight Yankee runs in the second inning started a whirlwind of scoring which kept the Indians nailed up tight and resulted in a 17-2 victory for the New Yorkers, who ran up 21 hits and profited by three Cleveland errors.

Playing at St. Louis, the Senators booted themselves into a total of four errors and took the short grounds from an early hour this morning hoping to secure even standing room.

The Wimbledon authorities have lived up to their reputation for introducing something new at each tournament. This year's innovations are electric scoring-boards for the No. 1 court, enabling people outside the court to follow the games, and a branch bank for the convenience of spectators and competitors.

end of a 13-0 score though they made a dozen hits. The Browns got 14 hits and made but one error.

Boston's Red Sox made two runs in the first inning of their game with the White Sox at Chicago. In the second inning they added another four and sewed the game up, finally winning 8 to 3.

Brooklyn's Dodgers, leaders in the National circuit, took a rest to-day because of rain and remained at a percentage of .641, and other league leaders were likewise out of commission.

There was a double-header at Boston, however, in which the Braves won both games from the Reds. The first was by a 6-4 score, with the aid of two Cincinnati errors. In the second game the Braves came up from behind and made four runs in the sixth and another four in the ninth, winning 10.5 despite two errors.

O'Doul's single in the tenth inning of the Pirates-Phillies game scored Southern to make a 5-4 victory for the Phillies. The Pirates had helped by contributing three errors.

The following are the detailed results of to-day's games:—

SENATOR-CUBS TRADING.

Washington, June 17.—It has been announced by the management of the Washington Senators that Garland Braxton and Bennett H. Tate of the Senators have been traded to the Chicago Cubs in exchange for Arthur Shires, pugilistic first baseman self-styled "Shires the Great."

Shires engaged in several ring engagements over the winter after building up something of a reputation as a fighter on the diamond and even against his own manager, and as he himself points out, while his tactics may not be orthodox the fans like to see him.

A QUIET DAY.

[UNITED PRESS.]

New York, June 18. With most of the big league baseball teams taking a lay-off to-day, only one game was played in each circuit and the only result of consequence was to strengthen the Athletics' lead in the American League by raising their percentage to .814.

Playing at Philadelphia, the Athletics walloped the third-place Clevelanders by 7 to 2 and reduced the Indians to .832. The Senators did not play to-day and remain at .839.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers did not play, so remain at .641 and the Cubs at .584, while the Giants, winning over the Pirates by 4-3, in spite of two New York errors, edged up to .537. The Pirates made one run in each of the final three innings, Comorosky, Boal, and Meine being the principal sluggers. The Giants spurred in the seventh inning and made three runs, which provided enough margin for their final victory.

Simmons, Fox, and Miller of the Athletics all made home runs in the game with Cleveland, while Morgan of the Indians was another home run hitter of the day.
